

The image shows a web browser window with the URL `epicgames.com/account/personal`. The page is titled "Settings" and contains a sidebar with categories: Account, Payment and rewards, and Parental controls. The "Account" section is active, showing options like Settings, Linked accounts, Communication preferences, Password and security, and EULA history. The main content area is titled "Settings" and "Account information", displaying fields for ID, Display name, and Email address, each with an edit icon. Below this is the "Personal details" section with fields for First Name and Last Name. At the bottom, the "Address" section is partially visible. Two red callouts with numbered circles are present: Callout 1 points to the address bar with the text "Make sure you're logged into your Epic Games account and on the correct page." Callout 2 points to the extension icon in the top right corner with the text "Then, open the extension".

1 Make sure you're logged into your Epic Games account and on the correct page.

2 Then, open the extension
